THE GRAND JURY REPORT.

The Condition of the Jail. Poorhouse Pesthouse and Workhouse Reduction of Expenses and Good Management.

Financial Condition of the County Very Much Better-Over Seven Hundred Indictments and Presentments-Thanks to

The grand jury yesterday made its final ceport to Judge Logwood, of the criminal court, and was discharged. The report is as

To Hon. Thomas H. Logwood, Judge of the crim-nal Court of Shelby County, Tennessee: We, the undersigned grand jurors, in obe-lience to an established custom, beg leave ipon our adjournment to submit to your ionor a general summary of the work done and duties performed by us during our long and protracted session. We entered upon our duties on the third Monday in September last, and have held daily sessions from four to five days each week. Crime is so preva-lent and offenders so numerous that our labors have been necessarily arduous and onerous. We have reported over seven hundred indictments and presentments, besides invesfigating many cases where no bills were found. We would here remark that nearly all the bills reported were the result of the inquisitorial power conferred by law on grand juries, and that much of the crime that comes before your honor is owing to the fact that Memphis is situated on the border of three States on the bank of the Mississippi, and the local points of five railroads, where felons and manner of offenders do most congregate We further report that, as required by law, we visited in a body the various public institutions of the county, including the jail pesthouse, poorhouse and workhouse, and find the jail in good condition and well kept and conducted. They would suggest, however, that they found some prisoners greatly in need of clothing, having scarcely enough to hide their nakedness; and we recommend that suitable clothing be furnished to them at once. Some of the prisoners charged with misdemeanors complain that they have been detained several months without trial, when they were anxious to plead guilty and accept their punishment. We therefore recommend that before adjournment your honor will have all the prisoners charged with misdemeanors brought cut and an opportunity allowed them to plead guilty if they desire, and fix their penalties, and there-by stop the cost of feeding them. We found the county pesthouse in good condi-tion and repair, but no inmates. We likewise found the county poorhouse in good condition and well conducted. We found there over one hundred and thirty inmates, comprising the old, the young, the lame, the sick and the insane, well clad, fed and cared for and contented. This institution has been judicially and skillfully conducted under the present management, and too much credit cannot be awarded to Dr. Duncan, physician and superintendent, and J. M. Coleman, P. J. Quigley and C. L. Brooks, commissioners, for the manner in which they conducted this nstitution during the year 1876-the won derful retrenchment and economy wrought by them over previous years—having reduced the total expenses from twenty-two thousand dollars in 1875, to a little over nine thousand dollars in 1876. This is practical and tangible reform, and should be gratifying to the ble reform, and should be gratifying to the tax-payers and elicit their outspoken commendations. We also visited the county workhouse, on President Island, under the management of General Forrest. This we found well managed, and the prisoners well fed and treated, but many of them sadly wanting of comfortable clothing; and we recommend that suitable clothing and we recommend that suitable clothing workhouse, on Presidence of four years in this city, Mr. Force was connected with leading firms and always and allowed to act as guards, as doubtless ligence while acting in that capacity. We examined the books of the chairman of the county court, and found the financial condi-tion of Shelby county more healthy and pros-perous than for some time past. The pres-ent assets over liabilities appear to be four lundred and twenty-two thousand three hunired and fifty-one dollars and twenty-one cents, not estimating the courthouse and other real and personal property belonging to the county. The books of the chairman are kept in a systematic and satisfactory manner, being a great improvement on the book-keeping in that office in former years. Upon examination we found the books of J. J. Rawlings, county trustee, well kept, giving a full exhibit of the transactions of that office, and in a manner entirely satisfactory. In regard to our examination of the bonds of public officers and public buildings, we refer your honor to our former reports. We cannot constitute the same transactions of the bonds of public officers and public buildings, we refer your honor to our former reports. We cannot constitute the same transactions of the clude without tendering to your honor and Generals Wright and Gammon and Dr. Per-kins, clerk, and other officers of the court, Stoves! Stoves! Stoves! Heating stoves of all kinds at cost. In order to reduce our stock of heating stoves, we now offer to sell at cost. H. WETTER & CO., 334 Main Street.

Dr. Ward's seminary for young ladies Nashville, Tennessee, one of the largest and best established schools in the United States, is now fuller than it has been for four years past. Its spring session opens January 22 1877. Catalogues sent on application. Elected to the Senate.

Mr. Harry Cohn, of the Great Western Clothing House, declines to be because he is not a statesman. But he is the clothier par excellence of the good city of Memphis, as thousands of her citizens and the surrounding country will cheerfully attest. He keeps his stock full of the best in his line, buys largely for cash only, at eastern bankrupt sales, and sells goods at one-half of the prices charged by other dealers. Bear in mind that he ad-vertises only what he intends to do, and if you are wise, do not fail to make your pur-chases at the Great Western Clothing House, No. 227 Main street.

Forget Me Not. The next thing to heaven is No. 227; the blace is well known; it is kept by Harry Cohn, a large sign across the street is a thing your eye will meet; the Great Western Clothing House is its name; if once you have called, you will be apt to call again. Bargains, bargains, is my cry, and competition I defy, as bear in mind the number and spot, and if about to buy clothes forget me not. Upon the Health of the Teeth Depends the purity of the breath. Preserve them unblemished by the use of the famous Sozodont, that perfectly harmless vegetable preparation, and you will never reg. et it. From Professor A. Jackson, Laval university, Quebec: "I have used a good deal of Colden's Leibig's liquid extract of beef and tonic invigorator in my private practice, and can recommend it as extremely useful in case of debility and weak digestion requiring strengthening nourishment.
